BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES CO-OP PROGRAM

Gain up to one year of paid work experience and professional development training!

Our Co-Op Program is open to undergraduates of all majors!
It is a partnership between the School of Biological Sciences and the companies featured below.

In our Co-Op partnership:

- Companies provide students with a paid work experience up to one year and a mentor.
- The School of Biological Sciences provides students with career support and professional development training through a required course, BISP 182 Cooperative Education and Analysis, and a peer cohort.

How to Apply:

- Co-Op positions are posted throughout the academic year on the website in the QR code below (biology.ucsd.edu/education/biocap).
- Apply through Handshake and interview with the company. If the company hires you, you are part of the Co-Op Program and will start work in summer and will enroll in BISP 182.

Learn more by registering on Handshake for virtual Co-Op Information Sessions on Sept. 26, Oct. 10, Nov. 7 and Dec. 2 at 11:30-12:30.
